

Servant leadership is the key to attracting, retaining, and motivating good employees. Leaders who create an environment that appreciates employees' talents, helps them grow, and brings out their best, will reap the reward of loyal, long term employees. Serving the servant will help your employees and your organisation succeed.

From "God is my CEO" by Larry Julian

Christine Choy - Senior Consultant

Christine Choy is a senior consultant at Clarion Learning and Director of Choy's Human Resource Consultancy. She was formerly a senior consultant in the Hong Kong Productivity Council. Christine is closely involved in providing HR related consulting services and facilitating management development workshops and seminars. She is an Associate Fellow and Executive Committee member of the Asia Knowledge Management Association and Steering Committee member of Total Quality Forum.

Christine worked for 6 years with the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited where she held a managerial position in the Human Resources department. Through various positions she took up in the bank, she has developed a depth of experience in a full range of Human Resources activities. Her significant experience in training and development and performance management for executives in the bank helps her to deliver leading edge consultancy projects for her clients.

Christine is very familiar with HR and management practices in Australia and PRC as she has 6 years of local working experience in these countries prior to joining HSBC. She is also knowledgeable about the working mechanism of the public sector as she had held official positions with the Hong Kong SAR Government and the ICAC of Hong Kong. This experience has helped her become an effective project leader for organizational development projects and interventions for government departments.

Christine's main area of professional interest and experience is in designing and implementing learning interventions and psychometric instruments that help international organizations to develop their global competence and support the achievement of strategic goals.

Christine is a Chinese national. She and her family live in Hong Kong. Christine speaks English and Chinese (Putonghua and Cantonese).

To speak with Christine call ++852 9304 6174 or e-mail: christine.choy@clarionlearning.com.au .